Profile

Jeffrey E. Glen is of counsel in Anderson Kill's New York office. He has litigated in the federal and state courts for over 30 years. Previously a member of two international law firms, he has a substantial trans-national practice, while litigating extensively for both plaintiffs and defendants in areas such as securities, corporate and general contract law.

Jeff spent much of his career as a law professor at the New York, Brooklyn, and City University of New York law schools, and as the Special Assistant Corporation Counsel in charge of the Tort, Administrative Law, and Affirmative Litigation divisions of the Office of Corporation Counsel of the City of New York. He managed the medical malpractice defense of the city's Health and Hospital Corporation, and led the litigation team that defeated more than 40 actions challenging the 42nd Street Redevelopment Project (without a single loss). He serves on the Advisory Committee on Civil Practice to the Chief Administrative Judge of the State of New York.

Jeff previously serves as Anderson Kill's representative to Interleges, a consortium of law firms based in over 20 countries, where he is a member of the Executive Committee. He also served as chair of Anderson Kill's Pro Bono Committee.

Jeff is rated "AV® Preeminent™ Peer Review Rated," the top rating, by his peers as listed in Martindale Hubbell.
