Reported Appellate Cases

Certain Underwriters at Lloyds, et al. v. BioEnergy Dev. Group LLC, 189 A.D.3d 573, 139 N.Y.S.3d 13 (1st Dept 2020); 178 A.D.3d 463, 115 N.Y.S.3d 240 (1st Dept 2019). Breach of implied duty of good faith, consequential damages, attorneys' fees and interest claim for tens of millions of dollars permitted because underwriters and insurance companies' delayed interim payments on business interruption policies.

American Home Assurance Co. v. The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, et al., 166 A.D.3d 464 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dept 2018). Policy triggered if injuries arise out of building operations at World Trade Center/Hudson Bay site regardless of when harm became apparent; all fireproofing insulation injuries were not a single occurrence; AIG must continue to defend entirety of asbestos claims.

Matter of Viking Pump, Inc., 27 N.Y.S.3d 244 (2016). Policyholders are entitled to "all sums", not just pro-rata share, from policies with prior insurance or non-cumulation clauses. Policyholders can spike vertically to access excess policies instead of relying on a "rising bath tub" allocation if their policies state underlying limits. Amicus brief submitted on behalf of United Policyholders, WRG Asbestos PI Trust, Asarco Asbestos Personal Injury Trust, and others, accepted by New York Court of Appeals.

American Home Assurance Co. v. The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, et al., 123 A.D.3d 633, 1 N.Y.S.3d 29 (1st Dept 2014). Policyholder entitled to attorneys' fees in establishing duty to defend even when policyholder moves for summary judgment on its counter-claim for defense.

Cleaver-Brooks, Inc. v. AIU Ins. Co., 351 Wis.2d 643, 839 N.W.2d 882 (2013), rev. denied, (2014). Established that excess insurance companies sharing a layer of coverage can be ordered to pay the policyholder simultaneously and not sequentially.

State of California v. Continental Ins. Co., 55 Cal.4th 186, 281 P.3d 1000 (2012). Won landmark decision from California Supreme Court establishing that policyholders are entitled to the entire limits (all sums) of their insurance policies instead of some reduced pro-rata share and that policyholders are entitled to the benefits of policies for all years (stack), not just a single year, in which the loss occurred.

State of California v. Allstate Ins. Co., 45 Cal.4th 1008, 201 P.3d 1147 (2009). Won landmark decision from California Supreme Court establishing that policyholders are entitled to coverage for whole loss when there are both covered and uncovered causes unless the insurance company can bear its burden to prove the exact amount of the loss attributed to the uncovered cause. Also won decision that the polluter's exclusion applied to the discharge from, and not into, the contaminant facility, which significantly narrowed the application of the polluter's exclusion.

Cascade Corp. v. American Home, et al., 206 Or. App. 1, 135 P.3d 450, (Or. Ct. App. 2006) app. dismissed, 2007 Ore. LEXIS 1110 (Or. 2007) (excess insurance companies are jointly & severally liable under all sums policy language, no proration to policyholder, and no off-sets for settlements or "other insurance" clauses).

Chickasha Cotton Oil Co. v. Houston General Ins. Co., et al., 2002 Tex. App. LEXIS 5692, 2002 WL 1792467 (Tex. App. – Dallas) (2002) (pollution exclusion does not apply to coverage for personal injury, alleged misconduct by insurance companies gives rise to bad-faith and unfair settlement practice claims, the terms of missing policies may be proven by secondary evidence and mandatory insurance forms filed with state insurance departments or specimen policies from the insurance company).

Weyerhaeuser Co. v. Commercial Union Ins. Co., 142 Wn.2d 654, 15 P.3d 115 (2000) (argued and briefed winning case recognizing (1) no general aggregate limit in standard form policies for claims other than products claims, (2) non-settling insurance company bears burden of showing that the policyholder was made whole, and (3) policyholder entitled to coverage even though policyholder had no relation to property during policy period).

Textron Inc. v. Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co., 754 A.2d 742 (RI 2000) (briefed winning case recognizing that the word "sudden" in the polluter's exclusion can mean unexpected and that policyholders' good faith effort to contain toxic waste is covered).

Textron Inc. v. Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co., 723 A.2d 1138 (RI 1999) (briefed winning case regarding trigger of coverage).

American Nat. Fire Ins. Co. v. B & L Trucking & Const. Co., 134 Wn.2d 413, 951 P.2d 250 (1998) (amicus curiae) (briefed winning case).

Weyerhaeuser Co. v. Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co., 123 Wn.2d 891, 874 P.2d 142 (1994) (argued and briefed winning case recognizing that liability policies cover environmental liabilities even when policyholder performed environmental clean-up cooperatively without suit).

City of Edgerton v. General Cas. Co., 184 Wis.2d 750, 517 N.W.2d 463, 48 A.L.R. 5th 803 (1994) and 172 Wis.2d 518, 493 N.W.2d 768 (Ct. App. 1992) (amicus curiae Wisconsin Public Intervenor, Wisconsin Environmental Decade) (briefed winning case).
