Profile

Fiona Hogan is an attorney in Anderson Kill's New York office and a member of the firm's Insurance Recovery Group. She represents policyholders in a wide range of insurance coverage disputes, including third-party matters involving coverage for products liability, tort claims, directors and officers liability, professional liability, employment practices liability, and cyber claims, as well as first-party coverage disputes for losses related to criminal acts, cyber, and property damage.

Fiona also represents clients in commercial disputes and disputes involving intellectual property rights.

Fiona is co-chair of the Retail subgroup of the firm's Restaurant, Retail & Hospitality Industry Practice Group and a member of the firm's Sports, Media and Entertainment and Financial Services Industry Practice Groups.

In addition, Fiona is co-chair of the Student Support Committee of the St. John's Law Alumnae Leadership Council and a member of the Awards Committee of the Holy Cross Lawyers Association. She is also a member of the New York State Bar Association and New York City Bar Association.

Prior to law school, Fiona taught 8th grade U.S. History and 7th grade Spanish and worked for an education not-for-profit organization.
